AG2R LA MONDIALE partners with Fund Channel to simplify the operational management of its range of investment funds

AG2R LA MONDIALE, France's leading provider of social protection and patrimonial protection, and Fund Channel, a fund distribution platform for professionals jointly owned by Amundi and CACEIS, announce a partnership in the French and Luxembourg markets.

AG2R LA MONDIALE entrusts Fund Channel with the operational management of its range of investment funds provided by different asset management firms. This "open architecture" approach allows AG2R LA MONDIALE to offer its clients investment solutions from multiple partners.

This partnership aims to simplify and modernize the operations related to the distribution of these funds, while ensuring rigorous oversight and compliance with regulatory requirements.

With 20 years of experience and recognized expertise across a broad range of investment solutions, Fund Channel provides AG2R LA MONDIALE with a digital platform that centralizes all exchanges and transactions, simplifies regulatory checks related to customer due diligence, and streamlines day-to-day operations.

"This partnership with Fund Channel is well aligned with our business development and efficiency ambitions. By leveraging an advanced technology platform and specialist expertise, we are now able to outsource the management of our open architecture whilst ensuring that it remains efficient and compliant. This collaboration is a key driver in serving our customers and our staff," says Éric Rosenthal, Deputy Chief Executive of the AG2R LA MONDIALE Group in charge of Retirement and Wealth Management.

"We are delighted to support AG2R LA MONDIALE by providing our global and innovative solution, which combines contractual robustness with operational efficiency. Our goal is to enable them to focus fully on their core business while benefiting from an optimized platform tailored to their needs," adds Michaël Martineau, CEO of Fund Channel.
